President Roosevelt asks for more power for the Intergtate Commerce Commission and $50,000 to investigate railroad discriminations and monopolies in coal and oil, because such an investigation otherwise would be ineffectual. In that condition the Republican party has left the Commission for about a quarter of a century.

The Manufacturers' Record states that with a view to perpetuating the growth of red cedar and to improve the forest already standing, the Richmond Cedar Works of Richmond, Va., has requested the forest service of the Department of Agriculture at Washington to make a preliminary investigation of a 2,000-acre tract of land in Dare county, North Carolina. The land is low and the soil of deep formation, consisting mainly of peat, on which cypress, gum, red cedar and other species of timber grow. It is strange when we cut away our forests we never thought they would be needed again.

HEARING CONCLUDED

Evidence Heard Yesterday in Behalf of Defence in Inspector Rice Investigation

DECISION SOME DAYS LATER

Col. Oast Inquires Into Steamboat Conditions at Port and Is Understood to Have Some Positive Ideas in Relation Thereto.

The hearing of the charges against United States Steamboat Inspector F. B. Rice were concluded yesterday about noon, before Col. Jno. W. Oast, of Norfolk, Supervising Inspector for the Third District. The testimony yesterday was for the defendant, Capt. Rice, and upon it, his attorney, Herbert McClammy, Esq., is confident of a complete vindication. However, Col. Oast will review the evidence as taken in shorthand, prepare a report of his findings and his judgment in the matter and certify the same to the Department of Commerce and Labor in Washington. It is understood that the penalty in such cases, if there be a violation, is suspension, dismissal or fine.

The testimony adduced yesterday was in behalf of Capt. Rice. Some of the witnesses examined were Capts. Sellars, steamboat masters on the Cape Fear; Capt. O. D. Burriss, of the Southport; Col. A. M. Waddell, mayor of the city; Mr. W. N. Harriss, for many years port warden of Wilmington; Mr George Harriss, who has been identified with the shipping interests of the port since boyhood; Capt. Will L. Miller, of the Acme Tea Chest Co., and owner of the tug Fawn; Mr. S. M. King, agent of the Tar Heel Steamboat Co., and others. In addition there was a large amount of documentary evidence, all tending to disprove the charges as alleged against the inspector.

Col. Oast, who is an important figure in the steamboat service of the South Atlantic Coast was shown many attentions by the steamboat men while in the city and expressed pleasure at his opportunity of investigating local conditions here. Col Oast is understood to have some very positive ideas of the relation that steamboat owners should bear to one another and he has expressed his views upon them in no uncertain manner while here. Petty jealousies, strife and bickering are not in his vocabulary either as a man or an official and his expressions while here are expected to have a good effect.

An effort was made to see Col. Oast for an interview on these conditions last night but the effort was unsuccessful as Col. Oast had retired when a reporter called at his hotel.

A RELIGIOUS AWAKENING.

Revival to Begin With Services in Academy of Music.

The Pastors' Association of Wilmington has completed arrangements for a four days' union meeting to be conducted by the Rev. J. E. White, of Atlanta, beginning next Tuesday, March 20th, at the Academy of Music, which has been rented for the occasion. During the union meetings a woman's service will be held at 4 P. M. and service for men at 8 P. M.

The Sunday following the union meetings the several evangelical churches which will participate with Mr. White in his meeting, will each conduct simultaneously meetings for a week, or longer, as the interest may warrant, inviting such pastoral help as they may deem proper. Most of the churches have already secured ministers from outside the city to aid the several city pastors.

The union meetings and the subsequent simultaneous meetings will be for the purpose of awakening religious interest and everybody is invited to attend all meetings. The movement is one which is being carried out all over the South, many cities having already held such meetings while others are now having services on the same line as those to be held in Wilmington next week.

MRS. B. F. GRADY DEAD.

Wife of Ex-Congressman Passed Away at Clinton Yesterday.

Friends and relatives in this city yesterday afternoon learned with painful sorrow of the death of Mrs. B. F. Grady, wife of Ex-Congressman B. F. Grady, which had just occurred at the family home in Clinton, N. C. Mrs. Grady's death was due, it is thought, to heart disease. Mr. Cleveland Grady, a son of the deceased, who is employed in the general offices of the A. C. L. in this city, did not know of the serious illness of his mother and will go up to Clinton this morning to attend the funeral.

Mrs. Grady was about 55 years of age. She was a daughter of Dr. Henry Bizzell, of Clinton, and was loved and esteemed by all in the circle of her acquaintance. She is survived by her husband, six sons and two daughters as follows: Messrs. H. A. and L. D. Grady and Misses Lessie and Eva Grady, of Clinton; Mr. S. S. Grady, of Boston; Mr. J. B. Grady, of Burgaw; Miss Anna Grady, of New York; Mr. Ben Grady, of Florence, S. C., and Mr. Cleveland Grady, of Wilmington.

Not an Infernal Machine.

A sensational story that an infernal machine had been sent by express to a prominent business man on the wharf was going the rounds yesterday and various descriptions of the mysterious package were given by those who pretended to know. A reporter took occasion to investigate the reports and found that what purported to be the infernal machine was only some samples sent to the business man from a house North. Visions of a good newspaper story and "latest" developments from day to day for a week afterwards loomed up before the newspaper man but these were soon dissipated when the gentleman concerned was interviewed.

The meeting was held in Pythian Castle Hall, on the third floor of the Murchison National Bank and about 125 of the general office employes were reported present. The following officers were elected:

The organization will be a branch of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks and will seek to draw its membership from every department of the general offices in this city. The headquarters of the brotherhood in the United States is Kansas City, Mo. The branch of the order in Wilmington will hold regular weekly meetings and it is hoped in time to interest a large majority of the clerks in the general offices here. For the present the meetings will be held in Pythian Castle Hall.

The organization engineers, conductors, trainmen and telegraphers in the A. C. L. service have assured the clerks of their hearty co-operation in the movement started.

SCHOONER ON FRYING PAN.

Myrtle Tunnell Believed to Be in Bad Way—Owner Arrives.

The schooner Myrtle Tunnell, Brunswick, Ga., to Philadelphia, with cargo of cross-ties, is still ashore on Frying Pan shoals and in view of a stiff northeast wind that prevailed off the coast last night, she is believed to have been in danger of going to pieces. The deck load was jettisoned yesterday and the tug Blanche expected to take a force of laborers out from Southport last night to throw off the cargo between decks, but the weather was so rough that it was decided to wait until 6 o'clock this morning. The Revenue Cutter Seminole has been standing by the stranded vessel since Saturday night for the purpose of taking the crew ashore in case it should become necessary. It is reported that Capt. Quinan, of the cutter, advised the crew to come ashore Saturday night, but they preferred to remain aboard and do what they could to save the schooner. She is full of water and hard on the bottom. Yesterday, however, there was no sea and the ship was lying easy. Last night the conditions were different and the cutter may have taken the crew aboard.

Mr. George A. Tunnell, of Philadelphia, owner of the vessel, arirved Sunday morning and went down to Southport on the Sea Gate in the afternoon. Yesterday morning at 7 o'clock he went out to the wreck on the Blanche but returned at 3:30 yesterday afternoon. The captain of the vessel refused terms of assistance with the local tow boat owners until last night. It is expected that the Blanche and the Seminole will pull on the vessel at high water this morning. The Seminole pulled on the scohoner Saturday night, but was unable to budge her an inch. The cutter is reported to have lost an anchor in the attempt to get the derelict off.

AN INCENDIARY FIRE

Residence of Mr. E. J. W. Anders Burned to Ground on Greenville Sound

EARLY YESTERDAY MORNING

Investigation Now Being Made Will Likely Lead to Arrest—Loss About $1,000 With No Insurance—Effort for Bloodhounds.

A pretty Summer cottage just completed by Mr. E. J. W. Anders, of this city, on a place he recently bought, adjoining Cedar Grove, on Greenville Sound, was burned to the ground Sunday night. The burning is believed to have been the work of an incendiary and arrests of a sensational nature are expected to develop in a day or two.

Mr. Anders recently moved to Wilmington from Sampson county and opened an office as land surveyor in the Odd Fellows' building on Princess street. He purchased the place on Greenville Sound a short time ago and was just completing the residence when it was burned. He expected to move his family there within a few days and the loss for that reason is very hard on him. The money loss on the building is in the neighborhood of $1,000 and he had not one cent of insurance.

Mr. Anders received the first news of the burning about 9 o'clock yesterday morning from a Mr. Howard, who lives on the place. The owner of the property had reason to believe from the first that the fire was the work of an incendiary, but refuses until now to discuss the grounds of suspicion for publication. However, developments are expected very soon.

Mr. Anders, his brother, Mr. Will Anders, and Special Officer Wm. Sheehan went down to the Sound yesterday afternoon to investigate the matter and returned last night. They report that their investigation was quite satisfactory but thus far there have been no tangible developments.

Mr. Anders made an effort yesterday morning to get bloodhounds to take to the scene of the fire, but was unsuccessful. The affair has caused much excitement among residents on the Sound, and Mr. Anders is receiving the co-operation of the best people there in ferreting out the crime. A. J. Marshall, Esq., is counsel for Mr. Anders and will advise him what to do in the light of further investigation which will be pursued to a conclusion to-day.

CLYDE LINER MOVEMENTS.

Board of Survey Held on Navahoe—Algonquin Arrives.

A board of survey convened yesterday morning at 9 o'clock on the Clyde Liner Navahoe for the purpose of passing upon her condition and adjusting other matters in their province in connection with the grounding of the ship on Middle Ground Shoals last week. The board ruled that the steamer was in perfect seaworthy condition and she will proceed to New York as soon as the lightered cargo can be reloaded into the vessel. The steamer proceeded at once after the survey up to the old C. F. & Y. V. shed, where a large part of the lightered stuff was stored and good progress was made during the day and last night. The barge Louis H., which had about 100,000 feet of the lumber, was towed alongside the ship in the afternoon by the tug Marion and the cargo of lumber, etc., was reloaded from there. The Navahoe expects to proceed to-morrow morning.

The Clyde Liner Algonquin, 2,558 tons, Capt. Chas. M. Devereaux, of the New York, Charleston and Jacksonville line, which was secured to bring the regular freight this week, arrived up last night at 10 o'clock. There will be, however, no freight to New York this week. The Algonquin is one of the first ships of the Clyde fleet and the musical tone of her signal as she came up the river last night was heard and recognized by many. The Algonquin will probably proceed South this afternoon.

The Algonquin has a big passenger list, most of whom are bound from New York to Florida resorts. Many of the passengers came ashore last night and took a view of the city by moonlight. The ship is brilliantly lighted with electricity and presented a handsome appearance from the river front after she reached the wharf last night.

AGAINST WESTERN UNION.

Novel Suit Instituted For Mental Anguish By Minister's Son.

Summons was issued yesterday from the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court in this county in a novel mental anguish suit for damages which Mr. S. W. Edwards, of Atkinson, N. C., brings against the Western Union Telegraph Co. Mr. Edwards is a son of Rev. E. J. Edwards, the Baptist minister, who died some time ago in Lowell, Gaston county. At the time of his father's death a telegram was sent to Mr. Edwards at Atkinson, via Currie, N. C., informing him of the fact and advising him of the funeral arrangements. The custom, it seems, is for telegrams to be mailed from the point of receipt to the address of the receiver. In this case, Mr. Edwards alleged that the telegram was never mailed and the first news he had of his father's death was a notice published in the newspapers. For this delay and alleged negligence on the part of the company's agent, Mr. Edwards asks for damages for mental anxiety. He is represented by Brooke G. Empie, Esq., of this city, and a copy of the summons was served yesterday on Manager W. G. Sale, of the Western Union in this city, he being the nearest available agent of the company, though the alleged error was not through his office. It is understod that the damages asked will be something less than $2,000 as a suit for more than that amount would be removable to the United States Court which is not desired by the plaintiff in this action. Where the adresseee is in the territory of the receiving office, the case is not new but the suit now in question will establish a new principle as to what is incumbent upon telegraph companies in the way of mailing messages.

—The annual Purim entertainment for children will take place this afternoon in Harmony Circle Club rooms, followed at night by the annual Purim ball for the grown-ups. Both affairs promise to be quiet pleasant for all who attend.

ACADEMY TO-MORROW NIGHT.

"Mrs. Wiggs of Cabbage Patch" at Academy of Music.

Seats go on sale this morning for that droll comedy, "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch," which will be seen at the theatre to-morrow night. Of the production in Savannah a few nights ago, the Morning News of that city says:

"Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" was the attraction at the Savannah theatre last night, the theatre being crowded with those who came to hear the epigrammatic and quaint sayings of Mrs. Wiggs. There was nothing unusual about the plot, and with anybody except Mrs. Wiggs as the center it would hardly have attracted attention. From first to last the stage was occupied by one or more of the four characters whose fortunes and misfortunes provoked in turn laughter, applause or tears. Mrs. Madge Carr, who played the part of Mrs. Wiggs, became the living embodiment of the character whose sayings on the printed page have entertained and delighted so many readers. Her sayings were of the common people and their truth found echo in the experience of every one. Miss Helen Lowell, as 'Mis' Hazy' played her part most satisfactorily, her every appearance being highly amusing. Lovey Mary, who is almost as well known as the central figure, was well played and won the love of the audience. Charles Carter, as Mr. Stubbins, completed the quartette whose doings made the play what it is—a most pleasing mixture of mirth and pathos. As Mrs. Wiggs has found a place in literature, so she has invaded the stage, and found a permanent place behind the footlights.

COTTON GOODS SAMPLES FROM CHINA.

The Albany (N. Y.) Press-Knickerbocker referring to the movement at Washington to secure more efficient consular representatives in the various countries of the world, says:

"President Roosevelt is said to seek Consular reform. While we are assured that many inefficient persons are now representing the United States in the consular service, the fact that the Chief Magistrate is still appointing the politcal friends of United States Senators and Congressmen to posts abroad, cannot be disputed. We are very much inclined to believe that President Roosevelt is bluffing in this much talked-of reform."

There is great need of reform in the consular service and the South is particularly interested in it. We do not know of any reasons why President Roosevelt should bluff about the business, as he doesn't appear to be much of a bluffer and the country will certainly look to him to effect reform of a marked nature in this branch of our service. In all probability he will do so, and at the same time appoint some of the friends of the Congressmen. We should think he would be better able to make selections with the assistance of the Congressmen, but surely the Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade throughout the United States should have great influence in making the selections. The consuls are really trade agents and instead of being appointed for political reasons they should be sent abroad for their efficiency and intelligence in ascertaining the needs of the countries to which they go, with a view to extending our foreign trade.

If the American consuls had done their duty there would not have arisen the necessity of an Overman bill to provide for a commission to go abroad with the purpose of making observations with the object of extending our cotton and cotton goods trade. The consuls ought to be better able to let us know the requirements of foreign countries than could possibly be ascertained by a commission. Nevertheless we hope the Overman bill will pass and the commission will be appointed by the President.

In any reform of the consular service, the South should be taken into consideration. The criticism has been made that few consuls are appointed from the South, and from whatever source comes the complaint in that respect, it is a just one. A judicious appointment of consuls from the South would no doubt do a great deal to extend our cotton trade in all parts of the world and we do not know better how to do it than by appointing some wide awake consuls from the cotton belt to do the work.

Some of our consuls are waking up, however, for the telegraphic news from Washington a few days ago states that they or some special agent of the Bureau of Manufactures at Washington, have been gathering and sending home samples of cotton goods most suitable to the Chinese trade. Major John M. Carson, chief of the Bureau of Manufactures, has received from China more than 200 samples of cotton goods that meet the needs of the Chinese and find ready sale in the Orient.

We are gratified to note that our North Carolina manufacturers will have the opportunity to see those samples, for a Washington dispatch states that Representative Webb, of North Carolina, gives out the statement that Major Carson will send the samples to a number of manufacturing centres in North Carolina, including Charlotte, Greensboro and Gastonia. The samples show the character and quality of cotton goods which strike the fancy of the Chinese, and it is understood that manufacturers from all over North Carolina will be given the oportunity of seeing them on exhibition at Asheville when the Southern Cotton Manufacturers will hold their convention there in May.

Speaking of the object of the Bureau of Manufacturers in securing and sending out samples of cotton goods from China, a Washington special to the Louisville Courier-Journal says:

"'It was the hope of Major Carson that samples could be sent to the cotton manufacturers themselves, but owing to the wide extent of territory covered by the South's ten million spindles, this has been found impractical. Instead of this boards of trade in manu facturing centres of South Carolina, North Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Kentucky and other States will receive these samples, and the manufacturers can see exactly what kind of cotton goods is most fancied by the Chinese.

"Major Carson's agents gathered the samples from all parts of China. Most of them consist of goods sent from European countries, but Japanese and Indian samples also figure to no small extent. In addition there are samples also of cotton goods sent to China by American firms. Upon each sample the special agent has made some brief comment as to its popularity or unpopularity among the Chinese. In this way American manufacturers will get a better idea as to what is wanted by the Orientals. Major Carson's office resembles a big department store at cleaning-up time. All over the desks are spread samples of every conceivable color and pattern. 'Last year,' said Major Carson to-day, 'we did forty million dollars' worth of business with China. There is no reason why this should not be increased to one hundred millions.'"

Major Carson is doing a good work but it should have been part of the duty of consuls long ago to have done as they or the special agents are now doing. We want North Carolina to get the benefit of this work and it is hoped at least, that our manufacturers will see that exhibit of samples in Asheville in May.

SHIP SUBSIDY BILL NOT DEAD.

The ship subsidy bill does not seem to be dead but only sleeping. The Washington corespondent of the New York Journal of Commere states that in decidng to cal up the ship subsidy bill for consideration on March 22, another step has been taken by the House Comittee on Merchant Marine toward advancing this measure to a place on the statute books. The committee has been expected heretofore to refrain from even considering the ship subsidy measure any further. It had been supposed that, when the bill reached the committee, it would be pigeon-holed for the remainder of the session, and that if taken up again it would not be until next Winter. Now it appears that a change of plan has been forced by the subsidy grafters who have been buzzing about at the Capitol with redoubled persistence during the past few weeks. These men have become exceedingly confident within the past ten days. Not only have they put forth the usual confident predictions of success, but they have also appeared to believe what they said, as indicated by the letters they have writen to persons outside of Washington for whom they are working. In various ways, some of these letters have found their way back and have gone far to establish the belief that the subsidy men really have some ground for the bold claims that they have been making.

The corespondent of the Journal of Commerce says:

"The worst factor in the situation is the aid and comfort that is being given by the Administration to the subsidy proposition. There is no more regrettable feature of this work than the disposition to use the Philippines and the Eastern problem generally as a basis for exploiting the subsidy idea. Not only has the plan for relieving the Philippines of the operation of our coastwise laws been entangled with the general subsidy proposition as the result of a confessed design to strengthen the subsidy idea—another instance where the islands are used as a catspaw in domestic polites—but in all that has been said about the Chinese troubles, need of getting ready for invasion, etc., etc., great stress has been laid upon the lack of ships, and much has been said of the difficulty of getting our troops to the Philippines and provisioning them after their arrival. The recent report which was sent to Congress as evidence of the military necessity of a subsidy bill seems to have been the joint product of officials in the War and Navy Departments. Coupling with these active efforts the fervid appeals of Secretary Shaw for a merchant marine, and President Roosevelt's endorsement of the scheme, it is clear that the measure has a substantial backing in officialdom."

A great many people were under the impression that there was no chance for the ship subsidy bill at this session of Congress, but renewed interest in it may be the result of the efforts of the big lobby which the shipping people are said to maintain at Washington.

—It is going to be a little tough on Congressmen to be compelled to pay their own railroad fare, and, in addition, be deprived of the privilege of sending their furniture home through the mail under franks.—Washington Post.

—Federal appointments may be the cause of the breach in the Republican ranks in North Carolina, but few Democrats would hesitate to take the jobs fearing a like result.—Greensboro Weekly Tar Heel (Rep.)

—Judge Robinson's movements in opposing Grant's nomination were some slower than when he made his exit from Mark Hanna's banquet.—Greensboro Weekly Tar Heel (Rep.)

With one of their number in the President's official family, the organization Republicansi n North Carolina ought to be able to carry things pretty much their own way.—Charlotte Observer.

—The plain fact is that the President took up the tariff question at its smallest and weakest end. If tariff reform is good for the people of the Philipipnes it's good for the people of the United States. Besides, reduction of rates here would help the Filipinos anyhow. You can't fool the tariff trust by playing at tariff reform.—Saratoga Sun.

THE COTTON MARKETS.

New York, March 12.—The cotton market was fairly active and showed considerable nervousness with the close at a net decline of 12 to 16 points. Sales were estimated at 300,000 bales. The market opened steady at a decline of one point on March but generaly unchanged to 3 points higher, which was only a partial response to better Liverpool cables than expected. There seemd to be little demand here, the weather South, while a little colder in the western belt, continued favorable to new crop preparations, and the estimate for to-morrow's receipts at Houston was liberal. These items encouraged the professionals in hamemring the market with a view to catching stop loss orders under 10.50 for May, but after selling off at 10.51 for opposition, the market rallied to practically the closing figures of Saturday on the additional spot sales reported from Liverpool, making total for the day 14,000 bales, and a Liverpool cable stating that the final estimate of the Indian government made the crop of that country 600,000 bales behind last year's. There was no indication of fresh bull support on the rally, however, and as soon as some of last week's sellers had secured their profits, the market eased off again and reached the low point in the late trading when there was considerable stop loss selling and prices were within a point or two of the low level touched as a result of March notices on February 25. The close was easy in tone and at practically the lowest of the day. Southern spot markets were unchanged to 1-8c lower.

Receipts at the ports today were 15,000 bales against 13,070 last week and 24,219 last year. For the week estimated 100,000 bales against 105,231 last week and 150,175 last year. The gain in new building and industry in North Carolina is greater than at any period in the State's history. The North Carolina Home Insurance Company, of Raleigh, N. C., should receive its proposition of this prosperity as compared with the percentage of new business given to it in periods of less industrial activity. Give it the insurange on the desirable new properties you have to offer. It will help to build up our home State and continue the great era of prosperity now enjoyed by our people.

DOING THEIR DUTY.

Scores of Wilmington Readers Are Learning the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidney's duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow;

Urinary trouble, diabetes.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

Policeman R. E. Smith, who lives with his family at 213 Boundry street, Goldsboro, N. C., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and have been very well pleased with them. They did me so much good that we decided to try them on our little boy, who seemed to be suffering from a weakness of the kidneys. He could not hold his urine and we have had to lift him out of bed several times a night or he would pass it in his sleep. Since giving him the pills we have been entirely relieved of this annoyance. My trouble was with my back. I always had a pain right across the small of it, and the secretions were dark colored and heavy with sediment. Since I used the pills my back is much stronger and does not ache at all and the urine has been cleared up to a natural condition. I certainly advise all sufferers from kidney troubles to try them."

Plent more proof like this from Wilmington people. Call at R. R. Bellamy's drug store and ask what customers report.

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

—The North Carolina Medical Society is booked for a convention in Charlotte the latter part of ...ay.

—Washington correspondence: Morris Bill, of Fayetteville, a candidate for the postmastership at that place, is in Washington. He had a conference to-day with Postmaster General Cortelyou, who told Mr. Bill to see State Chairman Rollins about the appointment.

—Elizabeth City correspondence: Dr. V. . . Lucas, industrial agent for the Virginia-Carolina Coast railroad, says that five hundred or more thrifty and intelligent Germans will be located on the line of the Virginia-Carolina Coast railroad, in Washington, Tyrrell and Hyde counties. The immigrants have been induced to locate in this section. Mr. Lucas says that his railroad has appropriated $100,000 for the immigration department

—The Cape Fear Power Company has about completed its plant at Buckhorn, near the junction of the Haw and Deep rivers, several miles from Moncure, on the Seaboard Air Line railroad. The dam is ready and the machinery is being installed. Four thousand horse power will be developed This power plant, when in operation, will be of great service to Fayetteville and other towns in that section. The construction work has been going on for a long while, but the wheels are about ready to run.

—Charlotte Observer: Mr. W. D. McNeill, of ...ayetteville, spent yesterday in the city stopping at the Southern Manufacturer's Club. Mr. McNeill is busily engaged in building a cotton mill at Raeford, Cumberland county. the plant to cost $125,000 and operate 5,000 spindles. Hosiery yarn will be made. The machinery will be installed and ready to run by August. T. B. Upchurch is president, John W. McLauchlin, treasurer, and W. D. McNeill, general manager of the concern, which is to be known as the Raeford Manufacturing Company.

—Durham correspondence, March 10: The Durham Loan and Trust Company has been appointed guardian of little Ben Matthews, son of Dr. J. B. Matthews, now under sentence of twenty years in the penitentiary for the murder of his wife. The company will take charge of the affairs of the little fellow at once. Regarding the status of the Metthews case, Major W. A. Guthrie, who appeared as counsel for Matthews, holds to the view that a mistake has been made and that the jury could not find second degree murder for poisoning. The case on appeal will be made up at once.

—Reidsville correspondence: A measure which allows tobacco growers to twist their own tobacco without paying a tax of six cents a pound has been passed by the House of Representatives at Washington. The growers have hertofore been allowed to sell to licensed dealers only. If this new law passes the Senate the planter will be allowed to sell his product to any one. He will also be allowed to stem his tobacco and make "home-made" twist of it, but he will not have the privilege of sweetening it. Several prominent dealers of the city were seen and asked if the measure would affect the local market to any extent. The general concensus of opinion was that it would have no effect whatever. Practically the same bill was in force for several years but no change was noted. The dealers here do not think it very favorable that the bill should pass the Senate.

—Mr. G. Ed. Kestler, of Concord, writes to the Charlotte Observer: In perusing a quaint old volume entitled "Notes of a Few Decisions in The Superior Courts of the State of North Carolina, and in The Circuit Court of The United States for North Carolina District," published by Francois Xavier—Martin, 1797, at Newbern, N. C., I find a fact of history that is not generally known and that is not quoted by any of the leading historians. The fact is that the first time that judgement of death was ever given to any one under the authority of the United States was at the June term of the Federal Court held at Newbern, N. C., in 1792. It was in the case of the State vs. one Maunier, a French sailor, who was arrested on the charge of murder on the high seas and who was convicted and executed, along with three accomplices. a short time after sentence. Patterson, J. and Sitgreaves J., were the judges on the bench; a Mr. Hill was the United States attorney and Mr. Martin was the defendants' attorney.

—Asheville correspondence, March 9: Judge Jones presided over the largest court this morning in the history of Asheville. As a result of a systematic raid by the police last night 43 men and women were arraigned in city police court this morning charged with keeping houses of ill-fame and with aiding and abetting in the conduct of such houses. The police went through the entire "red-light district" and not a house was missed. Six of the women were convicted of keeping disorderly ..ouses. They were fined $50 each and costs. Thirty-seven men and women were convicted of aiding and abeting in the conduct of these houses. The great majority of this number were women. Of this number 32 were fined $20 each and costs, two $10 each and costs, two $15 and one sent to jail for 30 days. The fines of the 42 women amounted to $990 in addition to the costs, which will probably amount to something like $200 more. The scenes this morning will be re-enacted to-morrow and every succeeding day if the women return to their immoral practices.

—Charlotte Observer: Mr. James T. Fuller, president of the Fuller Combing Gin Company, returned to the city after an absence of several months. Mr. Fuller is the inventor of a new gin, which differs from those in use, in that it combs the lint from the the seed instead of cutting it. He claims that the new gin is faster, operates with less friction and evolves a superior quality of fibre from the cotton. A combing gin was operated in the Griffith plant south of the city last year, and did remarkably well. A number of improvements have been made recently and the new gin is said to far surpass the old. For the last two months Mr. Fuller has been superintending the operation of a new gin in Bennettsville, S. C. He stated that he is now assured of its success. Already is he beginning to cast about for a factory site for a plant to manufacture the machines, and as soon as all the arrangements are made they will be placed on the market. Mr. Fuller intends to build approximately 100 gins this summer, and dispose of them to ginners who have witnessed his experiments and desire the new gins. When the factory has been completed, then the manufacture of the Fuller Combing gins will be pushed on a large scale. Mr. Fuller declares that the new gin will revolutionize cotton ginning in the South. The Fuller Combing Gin Company was chartered last year, with an authorized capital of $105,000.

DISCRIMINATING LADIES.

Enjoy Using Herpicide on Account of Its Distinctiveness.

The ladies who have used Newbro's Herpicide speak of it in the highest terms, for its quick effect in cleansing the scalp of dandruff and also for its excellence as a general hair-dressing. It makes the scalp feel fresh and it allays that itching which dandruff will cause. Newbro's Herpicide effectively cures dandruff, as it destroys the germ that causes it. The same germ causes hair to fall out, and later baldness; in killing it, Herpicide stops failing hair and prevents baldness. It is also an ideal hair dressing, for it lends an aristocratic charm to the hair that is quite distinctive. Sold by leading druggists. WARM WIRELETS.

The wrecking steamer Rescue which had been working on the British sailing ship Clyde, of London, stranded on the North Carolina coast, returned to Norfolk yesterday for supplies and additional wrecking material. The condition of the Clyde was reported to be good and the Rescue returned to the coast with the full expectation of being able to float the Clyde in a day or two.

Dr. Manuel Quintana, president of the Argentine republic, died Sunday at Buenos Ayres, of catarrhal pneumonia. The end was somewhat sudden, although President Quintana had been in delicate health for some time. He was 71 years of age and for many years had been regarded as one of the ablest lawyers of his country. He was a prominent figure in national politics from his early life.

Playing "hold up," Charles Ryals, ten-years-old, pointed a shot gun at his father, J. O. Ryals, at Branchton, Fla., near Tampa, yesterday, and crying "hands up," pulled the trigger. The gun was loaded and the charge entered the elder Ryals' breast, death ensuing in a few minutes. The boy believed the gun was not loaded. Ryals was one of the most prominent farmers in his section.

John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, returned to Indianapolis yesterday to preside at the National Convention of Miners on Thursday. When asked concerning the refusal of the anthracite operators to grant the demand to the miners, he said it looked as though the operators "are loking for a strike." President Roosevelt is not taking any further action for the present.

At Waycross, Ga., last night John S. Sharp, one of the prominent men and largest real estate owners of Waycross, was assassinated in his own yard. His family had gone to church and the murder was discovered by his wife and children on their return. Neighbors heard the shooting and heard a scream in the direction of the Sharp residence, but thought no more of the matter until his dead body was discovered. There is no clue.

At Wilhelms Haven, Prussia, yesterday Emperor William in a speech at the swearing of the naval recruits said not only should they keep in mind the great deeds of the German people but also those blows of fate due to their own fault. He reminded the recruits of the Prussian defeat at Jena in 1806 and admonished them to place their faith in God, "which the army before Jena lacked and consequently lost the battle."

HOUSE WILL FIGHT SENATE.

Offended Because Upper House Sets Down on Bills.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, March 12.—Statehood legislation formed one of the topics of discussion at the White House to-day. It developed from the calls on the President of Speaker Cannon and Representative Watson, of Indiana, the Republican "whip," of the House, that the members of the House are incensed at the Senate and not only on the Statehood bill, but on other measures passed by the House which have been received with disapproval by the Senate.

When Speaker Cannon was asked if, in his opinion, there would be statehood legislation by this Congress, he said vehemently:

"Go ask Aldrich, Burrows & Co. They seem to be running things. So far as I am concerned—so far as my vote goes—the legislation will proceed along the usual lines. The bill will be sent to a conference between the two branches. Do they think the House was born in the woods to be scared by an owl?"

Mr. Watson was positive the House would not concur in the Senate amendments to the Statehood bill. "The House will stand pat," he declared. "The Senate has kicked out our Philippine bill, has tried to emasculate the rate bill and has cut the life out of the Statehood bill. Do you think the House will stand such treatment? It will not, and you may depend upon it."

GREENE AND GAYNOR TRIAL.

Expert Again Explains Division of the Spoils.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Savannah, Ga., March 12.—When the United States Court convened to-day in the Greene and Gaynor case E. J. Johnson, expert accountant, resumed the stand to explain the government's theory of division of money between the defendants. There were in all, it was contended, thirty-two divisions of spoils. In the simplest case, the witness explained, Carter disbursed $39,075. He went to New York. The $39,075 was deposited to the account of W. T. Gaynor. On the same day Gaynor withdrew $13,075 in cash. Two days afterwards Carter bought $13,000 worth of bonds from Reed & Flagg, of New York. The government contends that in every instance where Carter went to New York there was an arbitrary allowance of $75 for his expenses and that Carter invariably made out the check for an amount that would equally divide into thirds, plus $75. Two sessions were held to expedite the introduction of Mr. Johnson's evidence.

NO CHANCE FOR ITALIAN WOMAN.

Supreme Court Decides Against New Jersey Murderess.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, March 12.—The Supreme Court of the United States today refused to grant a writ of habeas corpus in the case of Anna Valentina, the Italian woman, who is under sentence of death Hackensack, N. J., on the charge of murder in the season of 1904, thus affirming the decision of the circuit court. The Valentina woman was charged with the murder of another Italian woman, Rosa Salza by name, the alleged crime having taken place on March 10, 1904. She pleaded guilty to the indictment of murder in the first degree, ignorant of the fact, as she afterwards contended that the law granting the court the power to determine the degree of crime under such a decree had been repealed. She based her appeal on her ignorance which she said was due to the fact that she did not understand the English language. She asked for a writ of heabeas corpus which the court refused to grant.

BRITISH SHIP MAY BE SAVED.

Crew of Sailing Ship Clyde Landed at Elizabeth City.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Elizabeth City, N. C., aMrch 12.—The revenue cutter Boutwell returned to this port to-day bringing thirteen members of the crew of the British ship Clyde, of London, England, bound from Barbadoes, West Indies, to New York, that was driven ashore on Chicomacomico Island on the morning of March 9. The cutter reports fair progress is being made by the wrecking company and that the vessel doubtless will be saved. The crew was sent to Norfolk this afternoon to be discharged by the British consul.

CANNOT DODGE GRAND JURIES

Supreme Court Says Trust Witnesses Must Answer Questions at Investigations

MANY CASES ARE AFFECTED

Representatives of Tobacco and Paper Trusts Had Refused to Answer and Appealed—Two Pointed Decisions Settle Matter

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Washington, March 12.—The "Tobacco Trust' cases, involving the right of witnesses to refrain from testifying before Federal grand juries in proceedings under the anti-trust law were to-day decided by the Supreme Court of the United States against the witnesses. The cases grew out of proceedings for writs of habeas corpus instituted in the circuit court for the Southern District of New York, whose decision was affirmed. The court held, however, that the subpoena in this case was too broad.

The titles of the cases were Edwin F. Hale vs. United States Marshal Henkel and William H. McAllister vs. Henkel, and both came to the Supreme Court on appeals from the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York. These cases involved the broad question of the right of a Federal grand jury to compel witnesses to answer questions and as this question has recently arisen in many of the Federal courts, the decision in this case has been looked forward to with much interest. The present proceeding had its origin in connection with a suit of the government against the American Tobacco Company, commonly known as the Tobacoc Trust, the McAndrews and Forbes Company, and the Imperial Tobacco Trust, the McAndrews and law, which was instituted in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York. Hale and McAlister are officers of tobacco companies and when called to testify before the grand jury, relative to the existence of the so-called trust, they refused to answer questions or to produce their books. They were committed for contempt of court and sought to escape by means of writs of habeas corpus. These writs were refused and the case was brought to the Supreme Court by the defendants. In the hearing they attacked the jurisdistion of the grand jury and contended that at the time they wer before the jury there was no action pending against the tobacco companies. The jury's right to compel answers was questioned on the ground that in the investigation it was making, there was no specific charge against any particular persons. They also attacked the constitutionality of the Act of February 25, 1903, granting immunity to witnesses in anti-trust cases.

Justice Brown delivered the opinion of the court. Justices Harlan and McKenna concurred in the result but delivered opinions basing their conclusions on somewhat different grounds than those taken by Justice Brown in the controlling opinion. The Chief Justice and Justice Brewer dissented.

Paper Trust Must Answer.

Washington, March 12.—In an opinion by Justice McKenna, of the Supreme Court of the United States, today decided the cases against the witnesses in the "Paper Trust" cases against them, holding that they should answer the questions propounded to them in the proceeding against the alleged trust brought by the government. The cases originated in Minnesota and Wisconsin. The Wisconsin cases were dismissed for want of jurisdiction, while in the Minnesota cases the verdict of the Court for the District of Minnesota was affirmed.

SHARP DIVISION IN SENATE.

Tillman Assails President and Lodge and Spooner Defend Him.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Washington, March 12—There was a sharp division of opinion in the Senate to-day over the question whether the Tillman-Gillespie resolution instructing the Inter-State Commerce Commission to inquire into railroad holdings of coal and oil lands was of a character justifying the President's message regarding it. Senator Tillman complained that the President had charged the Congress with insincerity, pretense and ignorance and Senators Lodge and Spooner took the position that the charge of ignorance was warranted. The debate was spirited but was interrupted at 2 o'clock when the railroad rate bill was called up and Senator Culberson made a two hours' legal argument in which he supported a bill of his own which he has introduced as a substitute for the pending House bill. Senators Elkins and Bacon announced that they would discuss the resolution and message later and predicted that several others would do the same.

Washington, March 12.—The House devoted its attention to legislation for the District of Columbia today with the exception of making an inquiry of the Secretary of the Treasury regarding fees for additional services in customs cases which may have been paid the United States' District Attorney for the Southern District of New York. Four local bills were passed, two tabled and one recommitted. An effort to bring up the naturalization bill failed because of lack of a quorum. The Statehood bill was returned to the House by the Senate today and was laid on the Speakers' table without comment.

CHINAMAN COMMITTED SUICIDE.

News Confirmed That Catholic Missionary Did Not Stab Him.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Shanghai, March 12.—Private advices received here today from Kinkiang, province of Kuang Si, confirm the previous reports that the magistrate who died at Nanchang March 1, as the result of a stab wound, said to have been self inflicted or received at the hands of a Catholic missionary, committed suicide. It was the wounding of the Nanchang magistrate which led to the rioting last month, during which six French Catholic missionaries and three British Protestant missionaries were killed.

..OROCCAN CONVENTION.

Everything Waits On Settlement of French Crisis.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Algeciras, March 12.—Although the representatives of neutral powers feel assured that a solution of the difficulties will be found, it is considered probable that the deadlock will continue until the new French minister forwards to M. Revoil further instructions. Meanwhile both France and Germany maintain their respective standpoints, awaiting the progress of events. One of the most prominent of the neutral delegates to-night expressed confidence in a successful issue of the conference, but did not indicate on what lines he expected the agreement to be made.

GOBEL'S ASSASSIN MUST SUFFER PENALTY

United States Court Remands Case to Kentucky Courts—Will Have to Serve His Sentence.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Washington, March 12.—The Caleb Powers case was decided by the Supreme Court of the United States today against Powers. The opinion was delivered by Justice Harlan and held that the case was not removable from the State to the Federal courts. The case was, therefore, remanded to the Kentucky State courts. The opinion was based on the ground that the equal rights statute, section 641, Revised Statutes, does not apply unless recognized by State laws or the State constitution. Justice Harlan said that the Supreme Court of the United States could take cognizance of the case of a writ of error. The opinion was unanimous.

Powers has been tried three times by the Circuit Court of Scott county and each time found guilty, one receiving a sentence of death and twice a sentence of life imprisonment, but the Kentucky Court of Appeals interferred in each instance to prevent the execution of the verdict. Last May the case was presented to Judge Cochran sitting in the United States Circuit Court for the Eastern District of Kentucky, and he granted a writ of habeas corpus, ordering removal from the State courts to his court.

The proceedings in the Supreme Court of the United States which terminated today were instituted by the State of Kentucky for the purpose of securing the restoration of the case to the State courts. Hence practically the only question involved was that of jurisdiction.

CROWD THREATENED LYNCHING.

Bad Feeling Over Race Trouble in Alabama.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Mobile, Ala., March 12.—Sheriff Powers and four deputies left Sunday morning for the scene of race trouble at Klimer, 26 miles west of Mobile, on the Mobile, Jackson & Kansas City railroad, and returned at 7 o'clock Sunday night with four negroes, who are charged with being implicated in the attack last night by the negroes on the white residents of Klimer. The shooting was begun by Cole Daniels, a negro ex-convict and at once became general. The white men, who were armed, participated. The negro mob had followed F. E. Pringle, and a negro, Sam McPaston, whom Pringle had shot and was bringing to Wilmer for surgical attention, a distance of six miles. A. J. Ellis, an old white man, aged 60 years, emptied his revolver at the negroes, and just as he fired the last shot a negro shot him from behind, a load of buckshot taking effect in his back and left shoulder, and when the sheriff's posse left Wilmer, Ellis was in a dying condition. One of Ellis' bullets struck the negro Cole Daniels in the head, but he made his escape, though a citizens' posse is lying in wait for him to-night.

A determined attempt was made early this morning to lynch the negro McPaston, but cooler counsel prevailed. When the sheriff reached Wilmer some 200 white men were assembled there, gathered from the surrounding country.

It is said that there has been mutterings among the negroes in the turpentine camps against the whites for the past eight months. Everything was quiet when Sheriff Powers and his deputies left the scene, though it is possible that fresh trouble may break out to-night. In that event, the whites are better able to take care of themselves.

JEROME SUES HEARST'S PAPERS.

District Attorney Begins Two Libel Suits for $100,000 Each.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, March 12.—District Attorney William Travers Jerome to-day brought two libel suits for $100,000 each, one against The New York American and the other against The New York Evening Journal. The suits were filed in the Supreme Court and the complaint says they are based on editorials which appeared in the papers named in the issues of March 8. The editorial in the Evening Journal dealt with contributions which it alleged had been made to Mr. Jerome's campaign fund during his recent contest for re-election as district attorney of New York county. The editorial in the American was a criticism of Mr. Jerome's alleged attitude in the case of a man named Tillinghast, who confessed to jury irregularities in the interest, he claimed, of a local street railway company. Tillinghast is now serving a sentence on the strength of his confession.

Cleveland, O., March 12.—An explosion occurred shortly before midnight on the roof of Frankfort Hotel at the corner of Prospect and Ontario streets in the heart of theb usines section of the city. An immense hole was torn in the roof and the explosion shook adjacent buildings. A large number of the guests of the hotel are non-union structural iron workers imported here from Louisville and other Southern cities, working on the Taylor Arcade on which a strike of the International Structural Iron and Bridge Workers has been progressing. The explosion was made from a dynamite bomb set off by a slow fuse. The police arrested a man who is alleged to have said: "Did I do any damage." His name has not been given out.

No one was hurt.

—Fayetteville Observer: "Two white white men, apparently tramps, were arrested by officer Buckingham last night, charged with cutting the air-brakes of a through freight train on the Atlantic Coast Line R. R., thereby stopping the train and blocking the track. They are being tried this afternoon before the mayor, Rose & Rose, attorneys for the railroad company, appearing in its interest."

PEOPLE TIRED OF CORRUPTION

Effort to Secure Legislation to Over Publicity for Subscriptions to Campaign.

DEMOCRATS ARE WILLING.

Perry Belmont and Democrats and Republicans Urge Legislation—Chandler Pays South a Compliment as to Rate Legislation.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, March 12.—Pery Belmont, of New York, president of the National Publicity Bill Organization, addressed the House Committee on election of President, Vice President and Representatives in Congress today, on the purification of political campaign by preventing secret contributions Mr. Cockran, of New York, and McCall, of Masachusetts, also addressed the committee on general subject of publicity as set forth in a bill introduced by Mr. McCall and supported by the organization of which Belmont is president.

Mr. Belmont in explanation of the purpose of the McCall bill said it was drawn to compel the publication of contributions to the campaign funds of National committees with no thought of interferring with State control of State elections.

Mr. Belmont said Mr. Griggs, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee, is willing to publish all contributions he may receive in the approaching campaign. It was urged by Mr. Belmont that the bill is in no sense partisan. "There has been enough secret purchasing of organizations," said Mr. Belmont. "There has been enough nullification of speeches and of earnest political work by secret contributions. All parties are tired of it."

President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, said the continuation of great contributions to campaigns is inimical to the liberty of the people. He said the patience of wage workers was about exhausted and they were very much interested in any measure to purify elections.

Representative Bourke Cockran spoke in support of a bill he introduced which provides that individuals giving more than $50 to a campaign fund shall be required to make a statement before a county clerk and cause the gift to be announced in two newspapers. He declared that secrecy should not surround any contributions.

Former Senator W. E. Chandler spoke in support of the McCall bill and was drawn into a general discussion of Federal election laws by members of the committee. When asked if he would now attempt to force Federal election laws upon the South, Mr. Chandler replied:

"The South is behaving well now. It can see the necessity for railway rate legislation and that is better than a good many of the Republicans can do."

INDIAN OUTLAWS MURDER

Three United States Marshals Killed in Indian Territory.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Vinita, I. T., March 12.—Heavily armed officers to-night are hurrying from all parts of Indian Territory to a place twenty-five miles southeast of Vinita in the Cherokee nation, where the Wickliffe outlaws, Cherokee Indians, laid in ambush and killed three deputy marshals on Sunday night, and at least reports were still battling with two remaining officers. The relief officers, because of the bitterly cold weather and the mountainous country, may not be able to organize their forces for an attack before to-morrow. The ambush laid by the Wickliffes for the six deputies on Sunday night was cleverly planned. The officers were led into it unsuspectingly and were fired on without warning. The deputies fought desperately, but for a time escape for any of them seemed impossible. The three men killed were I. L. Gilstrap, of Kansas; Otis Tuttle, of Vinita, and Richard Carey, of Tahlequah. Thomas Wofferd, one of the deputies who escaped, carried the news to Tahlequan to-day and Marshal Darsugh issued orders to rush every deputy marshal in the northern district of the Indian Territory to the scene. Details of the fight have not yet been received.

Marshal Daraugh, in addition, wired the Department of Justice at Washington asking authority to swear in one hundred arditional deputies and to offer $1,000 reward for each of the outlaws, dead or alive. He has gone to Kansas and will personally direct operations against the outlaws. The outlaws are alleged to be headed by Charley John and Thomas Wickliffe, sons of a former justice of the Cherokee Supreme Court.

The deputy marshals were ambushed while hunting the Wickliffes for the murder last March of Deputy Vier. The horses of the deputies were shot from under them and Gilstrap, Tuttle and Carey were killed outright. The other two sought shelter behind some rocks. When Wofford started back on foot to Tahlequah for reinforcements the others were holding the Indians at bay.

More bloodshed is feared. It is said that many of the younger full-blood Indians in the Shavinaw hills are joining the Wickliffes. Several famous Indian fighters are among the posses. Among them are two brothers of Tuttle, the dead deputy. The Tuttles belong to a family celebrated for fighting in the early days of Indian Territory. When the two brothers left for the scene to-day they declared they would avenge the death of their brother.

After the fight, the outlaws were beseiged in the house of their uncle, Jim Wickliffe. Tonight no news was received from a large party of deputies who went to the Spacinaw Hills to capture or kill the outlaws. The Wickliffes killed Deputy Marshal Vier about a year and a half ago, and officers have been on their trail ever since. Six officers who were on the way to arrest the gang were fired on from ambush by the Indians who shot and killed three of their pursuers and escaped unhurt.

Plezz Mann, an officer who survived the attack of the outlaws walked twenty-eight miles to Tahlequah and told the story of the ambuscade. The news was telegraphed to United States Marshal Darrough at Vinita. Thirty-five deputies were immediately dispatched to the ambuscade. Authority has been granted Marshal Darrough by the Department of Justice in Washington to increase the number of deputies to 100.

It is reported tonight that full blood Cherokee Indians comonly known as Night Hawks, are joining the Wickliffes and the marshal fears that a desperate battle may ensue before the outlaws are captured.

In Antwerp, Belgium, yesterday, equinoctial tides destroyed wharves and flooded warehouses. The damages are estimated at several millions of dollars.

HUNDREDS OF BODIES TAKEN FROM MINE

Seventeen Rescuers Lost Their Lives Yesterday—Dead Over 1,000—Money for Relief.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

Paris, March 12.—An additional disaster following today upon the terrible calamity that befell the workers in the coal mine at Courriers on Saturday, has cast its shadow over the stricken town. A party said to consist of 17 men who went into the mine for the purpose of recovering the bodies of those who perished on Saturday, lost their lives in the undertaking. They had descended in spite of the recognized danger of the attempt and in the face of the engineers' warnings against making a further effort.

A gang of 25 Westphalian miners, who it is believed were sent to Courrier and at the express desire of Emperor William arrived there today with special salvage apparatus, but no further work will be permitted until the mines are cleared of gas, and which it is expected will take 48 hours. The engineers this afternoon hermitically closed pits 3, 4 and 11 and fixed a powerful ventilator at the mouth of pit 2, with which to force in a current of air. Later an exhaust pump will be utilized to draw out the noxious gases and vitiated air, and thus, it is hoped, to render it posible to enter the galleries and prosecute salvage operations.

Late in the day after several hours of ventilation of pit 2, the Westphalian rescuers were authorized to descend. They succeeded in penetrating a long distance and discovered two hundred bodies, which they brought up.

Henri Rothschild today visited the scene of the disaster and gave $4,000 towards the relief of the families of the victims.

The mine company's latest estimate places the number of victims at 1,060.

A serious disorder was threatened today owing to the persistence of parents who wanted to see the bodies of the dead in hopes of identifying them. The authorities promised to admit them in groups of 25 but the delay made the parents impatient and they rushed at the doors. A scene of great confusion followed but mounted gendarmes eventually forced back the crowds.

The Chamber of Deputies today unanimously voted $100,000 for the relief of the victims of the Courrier's disaster.

The Miners Association has voted $40,000 for the same purpose.

KILLED HERSELF FOR LOVE.

Tragic End of Handsome Young Woman in New York.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, March 12.—The police investigation into the mysterious death yesterday of Mrs. Ruth Rogers, a handsome woman, 25 years old, resulted today in the finding that she probably committed suicide. The young woman was found dead in a west 84th street flat with a bullet wound in the head. John S. Williams, who was occupying a room in her flat at the time and who found the body, was held as a witness. He said he did not see the shooting. At her preliminary examination on Saturday, Mrs. Standifer was committed to jail, bond being denied. The case was taken to the Superior Court to-day and the decision of the committing magistrate was reversed, on the representation that Mrs. Standifer is a victim of tuberculosis and that she has a young child from which she cannot be separated without danger to the child's health.

House Republicans To Caucus on Statehood Bill.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Washington, March 12.—A caucus of the Republican members of the House will be called for Wednesday evening to discuss the Senate Statehood bill.

Statehood "insurgents" are rebelling at the proposition for a caucus on the ground that it is an attempt to bind them. There seems to be a general understanding that the so-called "insurgent" members will not attend the caucus.

JAMESTOWN EXPOSITION.

Steps Taken to Prevent Opening of Fair on Sundays.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Norfolk, Va., March 12.—At an interdenominational meeting of ministers of tidewater Virginia, here, to-day, the question of opening of the Jamestown Exposition on Sunday was discussed and two Episcopal ministers, Rev. Dr. William A. Barr, of Norfolk, and Rev. Dr. Thomson, of Portsmouth, favored the opening. The meeting voted against the proposition, however, and authorized the appointment of a large committee of laymen to urge Sunday closing and to take such steps as will bring this about. A communication was received from President Tucker, of the Exposition Company, saying the question would, at the ministers' request, he brought before the board of directors at their next meeting.

—In a statement given to a reporter of the Winston-Salem Journal on Saturday Sallie Stewart, who is held in jail as a witness but who has heretofore refused to say anything concerning the murder of Henry Kobre, said: "On the night of January 21st, myself and a girl friend (whose name I refuse to give) went to the 'brewery' in company with Whitbeck. I visited Kobre's saloon twice that Sunday night. I played cards with Henry Kobre the night he was killed and he allowed me to win $18. Four men were implicated in the killing. Whitbeck planned the crime—it was his cunning that laid the plot, some time previous to the fatal night. Sam Kobre, William Plean and a traveling man, (a Jew) who gave his name as 'Finger,' but stated it was a fictitious name—that he didn't tell his real name—went to the saloon together. Plean and Sam Kobre went up the stairs to Henry's room where Sam knocked. ('Finger' remaining down stairs, tampering with the back door of the bar room), Henry was sitting on the side of the bed in his night clothes. He got up, opened the door, when his brother Sam and William Plean confronted him. Sam held in his hand an ice pick, with which he struck Henry on the head two or three times and he fell to the floor unconscious. The two men quickly rifled the dying man's pockets and also unbuckled and took from him about his wait—next to the skin—a belt containing about $1,200 or $1,500. While doing this the men put a piece of paper around the electric light bulb in order to have as little light in the room as possible. When the money was secured the shade was torn from the light. Then, Sam Kobre drew his revolver from his pocket and shot up in the ceiling. The alleged murderers then ran down stairs, where the booty was divided between the three men."
